The Election Returns.

We had hoped to give the table this week, showing the vote each candidate received in the county, but it will be impossible for us to do so, as we have not the full vote of each precinct. A sufficiency has been heard, however, for us to make the statement that all the Republican ticket has been elected, save Mr. Loy, who won his race for county School Superintendent by a large majority, perhaps two hundred or more. The hardest fight was in the race for County Attorney. Mr. Montgomery was defeated by Mr. Coffey by something like thirty majority. S. C. Neat, Republican, defeated Albert Miller for County court clerk by a large majority. C. G. Jeffries, Democrat, lost his race to Mr. Tarter for Jailer by over three hundred majority. The other Republican candidates were elected by safe majorities.

There is much speculation as to the cause of some Democrats losing their fight, but the real cause is that the county is Republican by about three hundred majority, and to overcome that advantage was task too heavy for the Democrats. There was dissatisfaction over the nomination of Mr. Wesley, by the Republicans, for School Superintendent, in his own party, and a strong fight was made against him, many of his own party doing their bit. His opponent, Mr. Noah Loy, was a popular gentleman to start with, and many Republicans supported him, hence his election.

The election was quiet throughout the county, no bitterness having been displayed by opposing candidates. The defeated Democratic candidates will take their defeat philosophically and the sun will rise and set as heretofore, all the parties dwelling together in peace.

It would be useless to advance causes for the defeat of Democratic candidates, other than the county is largely Republican, and when you take that into consideration it will be seen that several of the Democratic candidates run wonderfully strong races. The figures we have show Mr. Loy's majority 181, but in the count the woman vote is not considered. It is likely to be larger when all returns are in.

Mr. Sanders, Republican, wins for Sheriff by a safe majority over Clyde Crenshaw.

Next week the table will appear showing the vote each candidate received.

LOUISVILLE GOES REPUBLICAN

The News from Louisville is that the city and Jefferson county went Republican by 1,500 majority.

TAYLOR COUNTY

Taylor county reports that all the Republican county candidates were elected save in the race for Jailer and county Superintendent.

RUSSELL COUNTY

All the Republican candidates in Russell and Cumberland counties were successful, winning by safe majorities.

Have no word from Green, Casey, Metcalfe or Clinton, but the Republican sentiment in these counties predominate.

On account of losing my dwelling by fire in Columbia I will offer my farm, containing 97 acres, good dwelling and good barn and other outbuildings for sale. It is located one-half mile from Stanford pike, and one-half mile from Garlin. The farm is a good one.

DR. W. G. HUNTER.

He Passes Peacefully to the Other Side, the End Coming in Louisville.

Last Friday morning Dr. W. G. Hunter peacefully met his God. He was sick only a few days, being attacked at the Louisville Hotel where he boarded. His affliction was alarming, and he was removed to the Deaconess Hospital where he received the closest medical attention. His age, being seventy-five years old, was against him, and the skill of physicians failed to bring relief, and at 4 o'clock Friday morning he passed beyond the veil. He was not only a skillful politician, but was one of the most courteous gentleman in Kentucky. He was a native of Ireland, but more than a half century of his life was spent in Kentucky.

The interment was in Cave Hill, He is survived by his wife who was Miss Sue Alexander, one son, Mr. W. A. Hunter, who was the Republican candidate for Treasurer at the last State election, and was defeated by only a few votes.

The latter part of last week the Louisville papers reported that he was lying dangerously ill at the Deaconess Hospital. He has been a very prominent Republican politician in Kentucky. He has served in Congress from the Third and also the Eleventh district and in the contest for the nomination in said district he carried Adair without his name being on the ballot, the voters writing his name. His opponent was Don Edwards. He was also minister to Guatemala, under McKinley's administration. For many years he lived at Burkesville.

HAIL COLUMBIA!

We are delighted with Columbia, and gratified at the cordial welcome with which we have been received by her hospitable people. The many expressions of good will and encouragement given us already by the leading citizens of the town and community, are appreciated more than we can express.

The major portion of our advertising is at present coming from outside of Columbia. If it is profitable to them, then it would be far more profitable to you.

We are especially interested in the improvement of our roads and in bringing our farmers closer to market and closer to each other—closer to the church and school house.

The facts are that Louisville gives to her public schools all that she can afford to give and the money is wisely spent.—Louisville Evening Post. The money may be wisely spent, but the fact is that no city or community in Kentucky gives what it can afford to give for public schools.

We believe that our people want and will support a good and progressive newspaper. We already have a splendid circulation and it is increasing daily. We hope to double it within a year. But we cannot grow and be progressive, either as a newspaper or a town, unless we have the support of our business men and merchants.

The News goes to every part of Kentucky. We want the people of Kentucky to know that we have a live and progressive town with business men on the job boosting the town and every good enterprise in it. Then we want to keep our money at home, and want our home people to deal with our home merchants.

Begin now to advertise in the News every week. We will prove to you within a very short time its value to your business. We are for boosting our city, and community, and showing to the world that we are second to none as a progressive lot of merchants and business men. Help the News by advertising, the News will boost your business and more than make it pay.

It is a fact that few of our merchants are advertising in the home paper. This is not because they do not appreciate the paper as a newspaper, but because they have not appreciated the fact that a weekly advertisement in the paper will greatly increase their business and bring more business and competition which is the best exponent of progress in business.

The editor of the News having been a school teacher for many years, earnestly seeks the co-operation of the teachers and trustees of Adair and adjoining counties in making the paper a power for educational improvement and progress. Its columns are open to you at all times. We would be glad to publish the news of and any items of interest to the schools that are within the scope of our circulation.

The News is essentially a farmer's paper. Its editor when not engaged in school work has been a farmer. He came fresh from his tobacco and peanut patches in the hills of the Old Dominion to this editorial chair. We shall endeavor to serve the farmer with all of the current suggestions and help at our command. As far as we can approximate accuracy we shall furnish a weekly report of the local and foreign markets.

The subscription price of the paper is the smallest item in the proper support and maintenance of a newspaper. Columbia is so situated, that it should be the best business town of its size in Kentucky. If it is not that now, it is because our merchants are sleeping on their opportunities by not boosting their business and boosting their town. It is no new thing that "It pays to advertise." All successful businesses have been built up in this way, and the growth and prosperity of any town is measured by its advertisement.

LATEST WAR NEWS.

Standing on the line of Tagliamento, Gen. Cadorna has so far been able to hold intact his North and South front along the river despite several attempts by the Austro German invaders of Northern Italy to effect a crossing. It is pointed out that the new Italian front, although the enforced retirement to it was marked by heavy losses in men and material, affords the strategic advantage of being straighter and shorter than the old line, and therefore theoretically easier to defend. With the known strong concentration of Austrian and German forces against the Italians, however, there exists the menace to this line of a flanking thrust from the North. Close attention therefore is being paid to the Trentino front, whence a heavy blow is not an unlikely development, provided the Teutonic intention is to pursue the campaign in Italy beyond the stage already reached.

Germans have taken as prisoners the first United States soldiers, according to a brief announcement from Berlin yesterday, which Washington does not discredit. The Teutons surprised an American patrol in No-Man's Land. The number is not given, but is supposed to be not more than five or six.

Visits Camp Taylor.

On last Saturday the Editor spent a very pleasant hour with the Adair county boys at Camp Zachary Taylor. Thirty-three of our men were leaving noon for Camp Shelby, Hattiesburg Miss. We could not learn the names of the men going to the Southern cantonment, but shall have a letter next week from Hattiesburg about these men.

The readers of the News will be glad to know that our Prof. Paul Chandler, corporal, headquarters Co. 336 Infantry, will be our regular Army correspondent from this time on.

His letters will appear weekly in the News.

No man is better known in these parts than this distinguished educator soldier. Since going to the camp he has given all of his spare time to the night school work, that among our boys there may be unlettered patriots. A great teacher, Paul Chandler will be a great soldier, and ere long a foremost leader of Kentucky's fighting men.

Ed Hill, who is one of Uncle Sam's sons, who has been stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., for the past three or four months, come in one day last week to spend a few days with his father and mother. We were all glad to see Ed once more.

The election is near us. We had the pleasure of seeing all of the candidates last week, and we take it from their appearance, that they were all confident of their election.

Mr. W. B. Hill, Pratt's food man, went over to Bakerton last Friday afternoon. From the number of trips Mr. Hill makes over in that section, we take it that the demand is good

THE ADAIR COUNTY NEWS

WE ARE STILL IN THE RING

We are in the Ring for the Farmers only. We are better prepared for the best market this season than ever before.

We Have More Buyers---More Room---And Better Facilities

Than we ever have had since this market has been in operation. We are prepared to cope with any market in this section of the State. We haven't been advertising as some of our neighboring markets are this year. We have learned that farmers don't care so much for an advertisement. It is the price for his tobacco that satisfies the wants of the tobacco grower.

Our Market is Owned and Controlled by Farmers

And not by a bunch of town men who don't have the real sympathy for the old farmer at heart as one who knows just what hard honest toil it takes to grow a plant of tobacco.

We Haven't a Man in Our Employ that Didn't Come From a Farm

Our manager, Mr. Howard, was raised in a tobacco patch and he knows tobacco from A to Z. He is prepared to tell a farmer when his tobacco is bringing its worth and will permit no buyer, or set of buyers, to steal it. Come to our market and get a square deal. We are all farmers together and we will assure you that we will lend you every assistance available.

We have secured the service of Mr. G. A. Bowen, of Taylor county, for our auctioneer. He is a farmer and raiser of tobacco. No farmer need hesitate to call on Mr. Bowen for any information regarding his tobacco. He knows the worth of it and would not advise anybody wrong.

Come to our opening, which will be announced in a few days. We are your friend, Fight to End of Chapter.

Petrograd, Monday, Oct. 29.—Foreign Minister Terestchenko, in addressing the preliminary parliament today, said a separate peace was impossible and that defense of Russian territory was one of the fundamental needs.

The Foreign Minister said the absolute independence of Courland and perhaps of Poland and Lithuania, was impossible, as it would mean that Russia would return to the days before Peter. He also asserted complete demobilization and disarmament and neutralization of canals and straits were impossible. Russia's foreign policy had not changed, the Minister continued since the first statement enunciating the principles of no indemnities, no annexations and the right of nations to self-determination.

"The people must understand that the war is being carried on not by governments, but by nations," he added. "As the nations began the fighting, so they must end it. Russia and France first held back the foes, and so they continue."

M. Terestchenko declared that the offers for a separate peace and the sentiment in favor of them were strongest last May, when they were followed by the Russian offensive.

"There is a rumor that the allies wished to leave Russia to her fate," the Foreign Minister continued, "but I state officially that it is untrue."

"Germany's aim is to separate Russia from the allies and if possible, to do this by peaceful means, in order to use Russia economically afterward."

"While the other nations at war are unable to continue civil industry, Germany has been so well organized from the beginning that she has been able to continue her efforts to carry on trade. She looks upon Russia as her market. Therefore, the defense of Russian territory is one of the fundamental needs now, for if Germany gets into Russia commercially, after the war, we shall have no self-determination afterward."

MORE PEACE TALK.

"There never has been more peace talk in Germany and Austria than now," said the minister. "I am confident Germany was insincere in the reported recent offer for the freedom of Belgium, without the freedom of Alsace-Lorraine, and in the intimation that this would be her last offer. She will make more."

"Germany is now concentrating her efforts to affect her enemies economically. For instance her attack on Riga was not strategical, but in pursuance of a farsighted policy of striking at our weakest point, hoping to ruin the economic life of the country. Too much importance must not be given to today's Italian defeat, as this also is for mere economic effect."

M. Terestchenko's speech was cheered throughout by the Conservatives, but he was heckled more than applauded by the Bolsheviks. The American, British and Italian ambassadors were present where the speech was delivered.

The Progress of the War.

The New York Times concludes that the Germans are attacking in Italy entirely for political reasons, while the allies are attacking in France entirely for military reasons.

The summing up is, in the main, correct. The Germans cannot hope to win the war by their blow against Italy. They may hope that by a great success in that quarter they may so discourage the allies that peace could be negotiated during the present winter, but the German staff knows as well as any other that, if the war goes on, the war must be decided by the outcome of the strife between the armies now facing each other on the plains of Flanders.

We think, however, that the military writer of the New York newspaper somewhat underestimates the meaning of this drive in Italy in so far as it relates to Austria. If Italy is struck a blow as will prevent her from attacking on the Italian front far six months to come, Austria is secure for the rest of the winter. On the Russian side the fighting has ended. Only on the Italian side was Austria in danger, and that danger seemed for a time acute. To meet it the German staff drew heavily from the whole Russian front, united a dozen of the best corps in the German army with a similar body of fresh Austrian troops, and rushed like a torrent upon the Italians.

It may be some days before the world will know the full meaning of the blow at Italy. That it has partially succeeded cannot be doubted, but, if the Germans and Austrians accomplish nothing more than gaining ground, it may be doubted if the operation can be considered an unqualified success.

In the meantime the fate of Europe is being determined in Flanders. There the fighting may go on for months or years, but there the war will be decided.—Evening Post.

Anxious for Active Service.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Most of the young men called for service in the National Army want to go to France as fighting men and they want to get there quickly.

Reports from five or six of the big training camps, Secretary Baker announced last night, show that when asked what they want to do the great majority of the selectmen say they don't care what their job is to be just so they get to France among the first, and then when given a choice between the combatant and noncombatant branches most of them select to be fighters.

"The boys at the front and getting ready to go there are all right," is the verdict of the Secretary, who recently visited several training camps in the East and South. "Our nation need have nothing but mounting pride at the spectacle they present."

Two additions to Camp Taylor are rapidly approaching completion, consisting of 182 buildings and when finished the camp will be able to take care of 44,000 men.

An automobile containing four Louisville young women was hit by a Fern Creek Car. One of the women was killed and all of the others were injured, one seriously.

Thanksgiving Will Be Different This Year.

An editorial in the November Woman's Home Companion says:

"For the first time since Austria struck the match which fired Europe, Americans can eat their Thanksgiving dinner with proud hearts and sacrificial joy.

"The three last Thanksgiving Days were full of turkey and plum pudding, but empty of noble gladness and serenity.

"We could not unconcernedly eat our fill when thousands of our fellow creatures were starving. We could not thank God, with the Pharisee, that we were not as the rest of men, because the vision of those men—our brothers—lying with stiffening wounds on the battlefield, or sinking into the whirl of waters while the submarine sped on its deadly way, robbed us of our peace of mind.

"Now in this annus mirabilis, this wonderful year of 1917, when the soul of the nation has spoken, when we have turned our backs upon ease, and comfort, and a security at once threatened and ignoble, we are prepared to celebrate Thanksgiving Day with solemn piety and purpose. We have not so loved our lives as to lose them. We have refused to acquiesce in wrongdoing. We have accepted our share of responsibility for the well-being of the civilized world."

A Senator Who Should Go.

(New York World.)

Although the action of the United States Senate and its subcommittee might warrant a different conclusion, Senator LaFollette is not yet on trial for treason. The charge made against him is that he is unfit to sit in the American Congress during a war which he opposed and appears still to oppose.

The latest activities of the Wisconsin Senator, who disapproves so heartily of American self-defense against Germany, embrace the mailing under his frank of hundreds of thousands of copies of his speeches hostile to the Liberty Loans. Government thus not only pays and honors the author of these diatribes but prints and circulates them—because he remains a Senator.

A private citizen thus engaged would immediately encounter the penalty. The first remedy as against a United States Senator is the judgment of his fellow-members. If Senator LaFollette, using his place and the official perquisites attaching thereto in a treacherous attempt to thwart the war measures of the United States, is fit to continue as an associate of honorable and patriotic men, what despicable behavior on the part of a member of the United States Senate would bar him from that body?

Expects Air Raid on United States Cities.

New York, October 29.—German air raids over American cities within six months are predicted by Dr. Powell, president of Hobart College, just back from the war zone.

French military experts informed Dr. Powell that Germany is building huge airplanes capable of flying 100 to 200 miles an hour, with which to bombard Atlantic Coast cities, and possibly places further inland.

These aerial agents of frightfulness will, it is asserted, fly at a height of about 3½ miles, at which altitude they could pass over England safely out of reach of British anti-aircraft guns, and except in the clearest weather undetected by military observers.

In Memory of Willie Evans.

On the morning of Oct. 8, 1917, many hearts were made sad when the news sped throughout the community that Willie Evans was dead. He had been sick but a short time with typhoid fever, and it could hardly be realized that Willie was gone. Had he lived until October 26, he would have been 31 years old. He joined the church at Tabernacle in 1904, and has ever been faithful to his church and Sunday School, and to-day our church is draped in mourning because of the loss of this good boy.

The latest activities of the Wisconsin Senator, who disapproves so heartily of American self-defense against Germany, embrace the mailing under his frank of hundreds of thousands of copies of his speeches hostile to the Liberty Loans. Government thus not only pays and honors the author of these diatribes but prints and circulates them—because he remains a Senator.

So free from all sorrow and pain;

HOUR OF SACRIFICE IS HERE—REDFIELD

CABINET MEMBER DECLARES
EVERY MAN MUST AID IN BEARING NATION'S LOAD.

MENACE IS STALKING ABROAD

Spirit of Conquest Has Poisoned the Very Soul of German People—We Must Unite Against the Common Foe.

Secretary Redfield in the strongest letter he has written since the beginning of the second Liberty Bond Campaign has sent to the employees of the Department of Commerce a letter pointing out the absolute necessity for making almost any sacrifice in order to purchase a Liberty Bond.

"I speak of the loan as calling for sacrifice. It ought to be that. It is in its essence a sacred thing laid upon the altar of your country," Secretary Redfield says in his note.

"It can hardly be the mere lending to the government of that which you have to spare. Your own loyal support, so generously given to the first Liberty Loan, may well make it impossible now to make the second subscriptions which are at once available. It is a real sacrifice for which the country calls," Mr. Redfield continues.

He then reminds employees that a menace has arisen in the world which threatens all humanity. "It has poisoned the very soul of the German people and made the power which now possesses them one whose rule is inconsistent with the peace of the world. That evil power has shown itself and its true nature in the deeds which make the rape of Belgium a world horror.

"The hideous record left behind by German hands in their retreat in northern France speaks eloquently of the nature of the thing we fight. This evil thing opposes every ideal in which Americans have been bred. It is hostile to the spirit of a free people; it seeks to dominate them; it would by force impose its will upon them. It is a cruel, ruthless force, and it will get us if we do not destroy it," the Secretary's letter continues.

Secretary Redfield then reminds the workers that Americans stand today beside the men of all races and all faiths in a common contest against a foe that threatens all.

"It is to take part, therefore, in a great human-wide struggle that you are called. It will require sacrifice, as I have said. The cause of the sacrifice is a worthy one, and it will not be made in vain," the Secretary says in closing his letter, which because of its touching appeal and genuine good sense will be given wide-spread publicity throughout the United States.

PURCHASER OF LIBERTY BOND DOUBLY REWARDED

Purchasers of Government Bonds of the second Liberty Loan of 1917 will derive much comfort from the investment, first, because of the feeling that they are helping the government, and second, because of the material benefits accruing from the interest paid every six months on the bonds.

Thrifit is a virtue more honored in the breach than in the observance in this country, and the preacher of thrifit is likely to talk to unwilling ears. For so many years Americans have been conscious of their extravagance, and even somewhat proud of it, that they have a feeling that it would be unworthy for them to skimp.

One of the attractive features of the Liberty Bonds is that the purchaser will not have to keep them until they become due, but can get his money back by selling the bonds any day. But the great comfort that the purchaser will have, will be derived, first, from the thought that he has helped his government in its hour of need, and second, that the money will be working for him days, nights and holidays, and that every six months it will prove that fact by a cash payment.

THOMAS H. WEST BUYS $250,000 IN BONDS

Declaring he made a subscription much larger than he could afford, because he appreciates the great necessity for the entire offering being taken, Thomas H. West, chairman of the St. Louis Union Bank, made the largest individual purchase of Liberty Bonds Monday in St. Louis, in the sum of $250,000.

In a statement issued after making the purchase, West declared he had done so because he considered it a patriotic duty to support the government and he believed Liberty Bonds were "ahead of every other security" and "absolutely safe."

"If you oversubscribe you can find a ready market for your surplus bonds," he said, "and if you hold them until after the war you are almost certain of a large premium. When we stop to think of what our soldiers will have to go through we should consider that subscribing for a good security to support them in the field is a very small thing to do, and we should take advantage of the opportunity, even to the point of sacrifice, if necessary."

U. S. RAILROADS ARE BUYING BONDS LIBERALLY

The railroads of the country are doing their "bit" in response to the government's appeal to the public to raise $5,000,000,000 through the Second Liberty Loan.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railroad announces it will subscribe for $5,000,000 of the issue. Two million dollars' worth is to be purchased by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad.

Announcement is made by the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad that the company will subscribe to $5,000,000 of the loan. This subscription is in addition to the subscriptions of the employees.

A subscription of $400,000 for the Tenth Federal Reserve District, with headquarters at Kansas City, is announced by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy.

FIRM'S SALESMEN SPEND DAY SELLING LIBERTY BONDS

Clarkson Potter, chairman of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, devoted his own time and that of his salesmen throughout the country one whole day to the sale of Liberty Bonds.

As a result of their campaign in St. Louis they received 103 subscriptions.

FARMER TO HELP MAINTAIN FREEDOM HE HELPED WIN

The first Liberty Loan Campaign, many of the farmers of the country were not reached, and subscriptions from the rural committees were few.

There were several reasons for this, the foremost of which was that the loan was put out in the spring, when they were busy with their crops and it was difficult for the canvassers to interview them.

Then, too, they had to borrow money for their planting. Now their crops are in, and at the present high price of food stuffs they should have a large sum of money in their hands.

For a loan of a portion of that money, the Liberty Bond campaigners are now appealing all over the country. The various farm bureaus and societies are co-operating and good results are expected.

When liberty came to America the farmer helped to bring it. He carried the gun; he contributed unsparingly of his substance; he fed the armies. In the present struggle for universal liberty it is certain he will do no less.

He has already made splendid response to the demand for greater food production. The first loan largely overlooked the farmer—the efforts were concentrated in the cities.

The second campaign should give every opportunity for farmers as individuals and their organizations to support the government in its financial program. It is the highest expression of Americanism that all the people should help carry the common load in this critical hour.

KULTUR MUST BE ENDED NOW FOR ALL TIME

"Buy more Liberty Bonds than you can see your way clear to paying for. Buy them and cut your expenses and use your savings to meet the payments."

This was the message given to Missouri patriots by R. Goodwin Rhett, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, addressing a meeting of Liberty Loan workers in St. Louis.

"We must make a sacrifice equal to that which our boys are making. Buying bonds does not fulfill the first principle of this sacrifice," Rhett said.

Rhett declared that oratory and publicity will not suffice to make the bond sale a success. He advocated a systematic canvass of every city and every precinct in the nation.

"There can be no peace as long as kultur is a vital force in the world," Rhett declared. "It must be ended now and forever."

SUCCESS OF LOAN VITAL TO U. S., DECLARES M'ADOO

Failure of the present or any subsequent issue of bonds during the war with Germany would impair the credit of this country, with disastrous results, is the warning being voiced by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo in his speaking tour of the country in the interest of the Second Liberty Loan.

"If the credit of the United States is undermined," the Secretary declares, "what is property worth to the rich man; what is life worth to the free man?"

Man, Man, this is your war and this is your hour to act.

WORKERS HAVE MORE AT STAKE THAN ANY OTHERS

A strong appeal to the workingmen of this country to participate in the second Liberty Loan to the fullest extent has been made by William B. Wilson, secretary of labor.

Secretary Wilson points out that the workers have more at stake in this great conflict than any others, because it is only in a democracy that the common people can come into their own.

"The great European war in which we are now involved came to the people of the Western Hemisphere as a terrible shock, and to no portion of the people did it come as a greater shock than to the wage-earners of the United States. They believed in and wanted international peace, but they wanted it on a basis of international justice which would insure the right of our people to govern themselves.

When the Imperial German Government undertook to destroy the lives of our people and to impose a rule of conduct upon us without our consent in places under the jurisdiction of the United States government, there was no course left but to resist," Secretary Wilson said.

"The workers have more at stake in this conflict than any others, because it is only in a democracy that the common people can come into their own. The great privilege is not given to all of us to serve our country on the battlefield or in the trenches, but there are other ways in which we can serve and assist those who are privileged to carry our flag on the battle fields of Europe. The impulse of sacrifice for the common good is sending the youth of our country into the trenches in defense of Liberty, humanity and democracy.

"To those of us who must of necessity remain at home to till the soil, harvest the crops, man the factories, mines and mills, the way is open for additional service. We too must make sacrifices. The men who go forth to do battle in the field must be equipped and sustained. Funds must be forthcoming to furnish the food, the firearms and other supplies for the fighting forces of the nation. Finances for that purpose must be secured immediately from the sale of bonds. The workers can help by contributing their mite.

Combined Efforts Will Win.
"I am reminded of the fable of a great drought when the crops were wasting for the want of water, and one little raindrop said to another in the clouds, 'I would like to go down to the relief of the farmer and his perishing crops, but I am so little it would be useless.' And another little raindrop replied, 'It would be useless for you to go down alone, but let us all go down and our combined effort will bring the needed relief.' Ten advice was accepted and a beautiful shower poured down on the land and the crops were saved for the harvest.

"And so it is with the workers. The funds each has available is but a drop, but all of the drops together can make a shower of funds that will furnish the needed supplies, bring joy to the hearts of the boys at the front and consternation to our enemies," Secretary Wilson declared.

TELEPHONE CAMPAIGN IS PROVING BIG SUCCESS

An endless-chain telephone campaign, to get women to subscribe to the Second Liberty Loan, has been inaugurated with successful results by the Woman's Organization, under the leadership of Mrs. John Holliday, chairman, in the city of St. Louis.

"It is the duty of every woman," says Mrs. Gus V. R. Mechlin, president of the St. Louis Woman's Council, "to aid the government in placing the Liberty Bonds. Every woman should buy at least one bond and sell at least one." Mrs. Mechlin has two sons in the service.

"Every woman must do her duty," declares Mrs. F. T. Kennedy, wife of Capt. F. T. Kennedy, who now is within five miles of the German trenches.

"If she is not trained and equipped for personal service to her country at the front, she can at least inspire and urge her husband, son or brother to do his duty. Further than this, she can aid in the financing of the war, to make it possible for her loved ones to win. If she cannot fight, her money can."

FARM LABORERS ARE READY BUYERS OF LIBERTY BONDS

One of the big surprises of the Liberty Loan Campaign in rural districts is the way in which the farm laborers are responding to the call.

These men neither own farms nor rent them; they are hired men and are not considered a thrifty or saving group, yet thousands of these laborers are asking about the loan and how they can invest on the installment plan.

The farmers of the country are thoroughly awake to the critical situation confronting the nation and the triple duty they have taken upon themselves, is first to produce food, second to loan money, and third to give their sons and daughters some evidence of the self-sacrificing spirit for which the American farmer is well known in the history of the country.

Three thousand Boy Scouts of St. Louis will parade at noon Saturday, Oct. 20, and give the balance of the day to selling Liberty Loan Bonds.

The different residence districts of the city have been apportioned and the Scouts will make a house-to-house canvass lasting five hours.

FARMERS MUST BE NATION'S HELPERS

SPIRIT OF ISRAEL PUTNAM IS NEEDED IN ALL RURAL COM-MUNITIES.

LIBERTY CALLED AND HE WENT

Same Spirit of Freedom is Calling to American People Today—Are You Responding Like a Putnam?

The spirit which actuated Israel Putnam more than a century ago is what is needed in America today, according to men who are in close touch with the war conditions and the affairs of the United States.

Putnam was plowing his none-too-productive New England field when a horseman dashed up and told him the tale of the British raid on Lexington. It was seeding time and Putnam's field demanded immediate care.

Did he falter or hesitate? Did he procrastinate? No. He left his team in the field still hitched to the plow and hurried away to answer the call of his country. He did not stop to consider the cost of leaving. Liberty was at stake and he was off to the rescue.

Liberty is at stake again. Your Liberty and the Liberty of the rest of the civilized world. Every day the rural mail brings the story with all its dread warning along the winding country road to the Israel Putnams of today.

But they are not in the fields. They are storing their $2 and $3 wheat, their $2 potatoes and their $2 corn and their $3 onions. They, better than anyone else, know how well they are responding to the call of liberty.

But it is time that these men, as well as their city brothers, awake. Do your bit in placing the second issue of Uncle Sam's Liberty Bonds. Uncle Sam is your friend. But he can do only what you assist him in accomplishing with all your might. Get busy, today. Be an Israel Putnam in your community.

ARKANSAS TENANT FARMERS TO BUY LIBERTY LOAN BONDS

Tenant farmers of Arkansas, who in previous years have found it difficult to make both ends meet, are this year going to be liberal buyers of Liberty Bonds," said H. A. Morrison, cashier of the Bank of Commerce, El Crittenden County, Arkansas.

A ten-million dollar cotton crop in his county alone explains why this is to come about. Mr. Morrison said that his fellow citizens were showing such enthusiasm in the new bond issue that he came to St. Louis to arrange to supply them with bonds.

"Heretofore," said Mr. Morrison, "the proceeds of the annual harvest was not sufficient to maintain the farmers until the next crop could be harvested, and it was the custom in April to begin buying food and other necessities on credit. The result was that in the fall it usually took about all the farmer got for his crop to pay his debts and get through the winter.

"This year it is different. The planters are going to get from 30 to 45 cents a pound for cotton, whereas before they only got from 6 to 10 cents."

"One fine thing about these bonds is that the farmer can use them as legal tender. In case they need money they will find their war bond investments readily negotiable."

Crittenden County's allotment is $81,000, but Mr. Morrison is going to try to dispose of $135,000 worth there.

I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak..."

I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few

HOISTED THE CHICKS.

When Barger took charge of the team last season the Chicks were in sixth place. Barger hoisted them to fourth place—a first division berth. Under Barger the Tribesmen won 59 games and lost 50. In addition to shoudering the managerial duties, Barger pitched 21 games, winning 13, losing 7 and tying 1. He worked in a number of games in the outfield, participating altogether in 66 games.

Tom Watkins, secretary of the Memphis club, stated that the selection of Barger as manager was a reward for his faithful services rendered the team the past two seasons. "Barger was the unanimous choice of the directors of the Memphis club," said Watkins. "We have the utmost confidence in Barger, and considering the favorable showing he made with the team during the time he was in charge last year and year before, we thought it nothing but fair to Barger to give him a chance to start out with a team he selected himself; and we think Barger is capable of selecting a team that will be in the race for the pennant next season. "Barger will be given a free rein in choosing his team for next season. If there are any of the old players Barger does not want, then it is up to him to let them go and get new players, and we will lend him every assistance possible in securing any players he wants."

The selection of Barger will undoubtedly meet with the approval of Russwood Park patrons the last two seasons. His quiet and unassuming but business like manner won him many friends among the fans and also the friendship and loyalty of the players, as they demonstrated by the fighting spirit they displayed under his leadership the latter part of last season.

Barger is 31 years old and lives in Columbia, Ky., where he is in the hardware business. Next season will be his twelfth in professional baseball.

Editor News:

Will take this way of letting my friends know how we are existing here in Hamilton—can't say living, for to live right, here, you would have to be a multimillionaire—not as Chas. Harris says, a million heirs. Everything here is awful high. Potatoes are now $1.75 per bushel, corn meal 6 cents per pound, fresh meat from 38 to 55 cents per pound, chickens $1 each, apples $1.60 per bushel, butter 50 cents per pound, eggs 50 per dozen, sugar 10 cents per pound and only 2 pounds to a customer, coal $8 per ton and none to buy. The dealers say they can't buy it. I have about two or three bushels now. The street car men here in Hamilton went on a strike last Sunday morning. No city cars or interurban running here or between Cincinnati and Dayton. To-night's paper says no settlement in sight yet. The Ford owners are reaping a harvest now. They charge ten cents for a ride through the city to and from work. Some of the concerns are using their big motor trucks to haul their employees to and from work free, which is highly appreciated by the men.

I am now on my second year with the Standard Oil Company here. I got an increase of $13 per month the 1st of July. We get straight time, and all the holidays we get paid for, and if off from work for any reason our time goes on just the same, and we are our own boss, have a big time with the people and kill lots of time in the country.

I notice that candidates are thicker in Adair county than yellow jackets are on Burton's Ridge, in the fall of the year. My family is very well now. Have had some colds and sore

Roads Rule the World

Not kings nor conquerors, not courts nor constables, not ships nor soldiers. The road is the only royal line in a democracy, the only legislature that never changes, the only court that never sleeps, the only army that never quits, the first aid to the redemption of any nation, the exodus from stagnation in any society, the call from savagery in any tribe, the high priest of prosperity after the order of Melchizedek without beginning of days or end of life. The road is uprise in every war, and when the new map is made it simply pushes on its great campaign of help, hope, brotherhood, efficiency and peace.

Hartfield.

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 14, 1917, the dear angel visited the home of Mrs. Vara Hartfield, and took her beloved baby, Ellis. He was a victim of erup and was only sick about 24 hours. He was four years of age. Ellis was an attractive child, every one who knew him loved him. He was very much devoted to his mother, brother and sisters, his father having been dead two years. He was laid to rest in the Summershade cemetery, after a splendid talk given by Rev. Claud Squires. I would say to the mother, let us sorrow not, as those who have no hope. Ellis is not dead, has only fallen asleep.

Halloween at Lindsey-Wilson.

The pupils of Lindsey-Wilson enjoyed their annual Halloween celebration last Friday night.

The enjoyment of the evening began with a hike over the campus lead by a soldier boy and a Red Cross nurse, who finally conducted their followers into the gymnasium, decorated with autumn leaves and corn shocks and lighted by Jack o' lanterns, where the grand march was enjoyed by all especially the onlookers for in this masked array might be seen the representatives of almost every country, except Germany.

The spooks were likewise the Jap, the Indian and two dusky maids from far off Africa. Prizes were offered for the best disguised and were won by Miss Verlie Phelps and Mr. Elmer Ashby.

All had a glimpse into the future as told them by a mysterious gypsy who had a tent in one corner of the room and later in the evening a witch rode in upon a broom and described for each one his future mate.

Amusing games were played and refreshments consisting of cider, ginger bread, apples, chestnuts and peanuts were served.

Married at Lebanon.

Mr. David E. Gowdy, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gowdy, of Campbellsville, who is a prominent young merchant, well-known in Columbia, was happily married on Tuesday, the 30th ult., to Miss Hallene Miller, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miller, of Lebanon. The rites were beautifully solemnized by Rev. J. L. Murrell, of the Methodist Church. The couple will reside at Campbellsville.

Everything indicates that Adair and all adjoining counties will be tested this coming year for oil. A Pennsylvania Company is now at work in Casey county, and two foreign companies were represented here a few days ago. The representatives are examining leases, seeing that they are all properly recorded, etc. They also state that work in earnest will commence soon.

The meeting closed at the Christian church last Wednesday night. During its progress twenty-seven made confessions. Twenty-four united with the Christian Church, twenty by baptism, four from other congregations, same denomination, and two who will join other churches. Eld. Bennett will commence his meeting at Jamestown to-night.

HIGHEST QUALITY AWARDS

Nell & Son regret that they have to announce to lovers of the picture show that the war tax, levied by the government, forces them to raise the prices of admission. Every ticket sold is taxed and from now on the price of admittance will be 11 cents for adults, 6 cents for children. They hope that the necessity for this move will not cause them to lose any patrons, and as soon as the tax is removed the extra one cent will be dropped.

Mr. C. S. Harris threshed out 253 bushels of buckwheat, grown on 12 acres. D. B. Redmon, 104 bushels from 6 acres; and Alfred Murrell 52 $\frac{1}{2}$ bushels off 6 acres. Quite a number of farmers of Adair have turned their attention to this class of grain. It is a fine feed and makes very palatable and nutritious bread.

Rev. and Mrs. B. T. Watson received a letter from their son, Thomas Tarlton, who belongs to the New York Rainbow regiment, stating that he had landed safely in France, and that he was well. Two weeks before receiving this letter they had one from him written in New York, showing that he had made a quick voyage over. The soldiers who land in France do not give their postoffice, but head their letters "Somewhere in France."

Mr. Ewing Stults, of this place who is a special agent for the Continental Fire Insurance Company, and who has been located at Knoxville, for three years, has been notified by his company that he has been removed to Louisville, and that his office will be in the Starks building, and that he is to take charge of same the 15th of December.

The Halloween party given at the home of Mr. Geo. H. Neil, last Wednesday night was largely attended. The party was given by Misses Allene Neil and Marshall Faull, many of their young friends attending and also a number of grown persons, who put in an appearance, to see the costumes and ghost like appearance of the wearers. It was a gathering that afforded a great deal of amusement. Some of the very small tots became scared, and had to be taken to the back ground.

Between twenty and thirty of the Adair county soldiers, who were in the Cantonment at Louisville, have been transferred to Hattiesburg, Miss. Their names have not been published, but we learn that Edwin Cravens, a young Dulworth and a young Vaughn were in the bunch.
